

Digger Phelps

Digger Phelps enjoyed two successful decades as Notre Dame's head basketball coach. In 1993, he joined ESPN as a college basketball game analyst. He calls select games and also teams with Dick Vitale to provide studio and on-site analysis during Championship Week, the NCAA Championship, and the NCAA Final Four.

Prior to ESPN, Phelps was an analyst for CBS Sports and a commentator for ABC Sports.

Phelps has authored three books, "Basketball for Dummies", "Coaches World", and "Digger Phelps & Notre Dame Basketball".

Digger Phelps also shares his leadership and team building insights in his keynote speeches across the country.